JURISDICTION

- 1. Jurisdiction is now proper of this case. The Kansas Supreme Court Justice Marla Luckert prior issued Order in Kansas Supreme Court Case 126833 on or around 126,833 and directed the Petitioner to take his prior entered Petition for Writ of Mandamus in that case to the lower court of appeals for relief. This Order stated the Mandamus Relief did not lie in the Kansas Supreme Court as Petitioner had an adequate remedy of Law in the Kansas Court of Appeals
- 2. The Petitioner now shows Exhibit 1, case record of his civil custody case 18CV03813. All Docket notations in the year 2024 show affirmative the Johnson County District Court has shut off the Petitioners ability to file entirely. NO FURTHER FILINGS is seen in the Johnson County District Court which also means the Petitioners Notice of Appeals that he has sent many times over the last 7 months. Petitioner cannot enter the Court of Appeals without having docketed a Notice of Appeals in the Johnson County Court case of 22CV03391, in which this Writ contains the matters of.

The Petitioner has Johnson County Case 23-CV06700 that was docketed in the county on December 29th 2023. The Case is also Petition for Writ of Mandamus asking for the same action of terminating a Protection Order but with the new facts that Exhibit 3, certified case records, indicate the Trial Court judge placed 'onto record' the second extension of the Protection Order Doc 28 that was purportedly served on Aug 10, 2023. The Original Final Order of Protection expired shortly after on Aug 19, 2023. The Opposing party of 22CV03391 motioned to extend the Protection Order on July 11, 2023. The Orders was set to originally expire on July 28, 2023. By Course of Law, the Final Order of Protection could not survive into September 2023 in the rarest of occasions regarding Motioning to Extended it.
